SITUATION STILL DELICATE

NOT IMPROBABLE THAT BELLIGERENTS MAY FAIL TO AGREE UPON PEACE TERMS.

Washington, June 14.—A note of pessimism was discernible at night in the tone of the discussion of the negotiations for peace in the far East. As far as is ascertainable, at this time, no permanent ground exists for the supposition that the negotiations are not proceeding favorably. It is realized in both governmental and diplomatic quarters that until the two belligerents actually are brought together on a common basis of understanding, the possibility of a hitch must be taken into account.
Among members of the diplomatic corps the formal response of the Russian government to the president's appeal for a cessation of hostilities was received with keen interest. It was made the subject of a conference at the White House between the president and Minister Takahira. The details of the conference were not disclosed, but at night Minister Takahira intimated strongly that the negotiations were proceeding smoothly. In other diplomatic quarters it was suggested that possibly a too optimistic view of the situation generally was being taken. This idea, coupled with a call of M. J. Messierand, the French ambassador, at the White House at night, led to the rumor, extensively circulated, that something akin to a hitch in the peace proceedings actually had occurred.

Conferred With Roosevelt.

Ambassador Jusserand returned at night from West Point, where he went to deliver an address. At the embassy he found a note from President Roosevelt, requesting him to call at the White House. He reached the president's home at 9:30 p. m. and remained with the president until 11 o'clock. Ambassador Jusserand was very reticent but said he had heard of no hitch in the peace negotiations; adding that the question of peace was not the principal subject of consideration at the conference. As far as he was aware, he said, there had been no change in the favorable status of the negotiations. When it was suggested that the Moroccan question might have been under consideration he declined either to affirm or deny the accuracy of the suggestion.
Notwithstanding the lateness of the hour of Ambassador Jusserand's departure from the White House, information of his conference with the president excited lively interest, especially among members of the diplomatic corps. In a well informed quarter it was said that a difference had arisen in the progress of negotiations which, it was considered, could be smoothed over with tact and earnest persistence on the part of the president.

Not Yet Established.

Direct communication between St. Petersburg and Tokio has not yet been established. The White House is yet the medium for all communications between the two capitals. Important details remain to be agreed upon before the plenipotentiaries of the belligerents can meet to discuss the means of ending the war. There is adequate authority for the statement that there is no actual hitch in the preliminary negotiations. Progress is being made, but it may be several days or even longer before all details for the meeting can be definitely fixed.

The negotiations have progressed far enough for the belligerents to be discussing through the president as the channel of communication, a suitable place, the number of the negotiators and what is more important than either of these, a common basis upon which the plenipotentiaries may meet.

PROSPECTS OF PEACE

RUSSIAN GOVERNMENT TAKES PUBLIC INTO ITS CONFIDENCE ON THEM.

St. Petersburg, June 14.—Instead of publishing the text of its official reply to the message from President Roosevelt regarding the initiation of peace negotiations with Japan, the Russian government decided with the purpose of taking the public into its confidence regarding the prospects of peace, to issue a statement summarizing the status of negotiations, which appeared in the form of a communication in the Foreign Office Gazette during the day. This statement, which pays a graceful tribute to President Roosevelt's action, expresses in a general way Russia's willingness to negotiate without entering into particulars which cannot be considered to be definitely determined until the receipt of the Japanese reply. The Russian government under the circumstances has deemed it best to leave to the Washington government the publication of the Russian note.

The following is a text of the communication:
"The president of the United States instructed his ambassador to the imperial court to request a private audience in order to convey directly to the emperor assurances of the unfailing friendship the United States entertains for Russia and to express President Roosevelt's desire to contribute as much as possible in the interest of the whole world toward the cessation of hostilities in the far East. The ambassador was instructed to add that the president was making simultaneous overtures to the Japanese government."

Emperor Was Pleased.

"The emperor was pleased to receive the American ambassador on June 7 and gave benevolent attention to President Roosevelt's initiative which had, moreover, met an equally sympathetic reception on the part of friendly powers. Russia being convinced that Japan was equally disposed to accept President Roosevelt's proposal, which was transmitted through the intermediary of the representatives of the republic at St. Petersburg and Tokio to the imperial as well as to the Japanese government, receives favorably the official communication from the ambassador and notice of this fact was published in Washington."

"In reply to this communication the foreign minister, acting under the emperor's orders, informed the American ambassador in a note dated June 12 that the emperor, deeply sensible of sentiments expressed by the president, was pleased to see therein a fresh mark of the traditional friendship uniting Russia and America and precious proof that President Roosevelt was in complete accord with the views the emperor held on a general settlement so essential to the good progress of the whole of mankind. As for an eventual meeting of Russian and Japanese plenipotentiaries, charged with ascertaining how far it would be possible for the two powers to elaborate conditions of peace, the imperial government would have no objection in principle to such an attempt if the Japanese government expressed a desire therefor."

Japan's terms continue to be matter for animated speculation.

A well informed diplomat, who says he knew Japan's terms before the battle of Mukden, considered them to have been very moderate, and believes even now they will be found not to be unduly harsh.

IN THE PEACE NEGOTIATIONS.

London Is Anxiously Awaiting the Next Step.

London, June 14.—London is anxiously awaiting the next step in the peace negotiations. Japanese official circles are somewhat pessimistic in the fear that Russia will not accept Japan's demands as a basis for negotiations looking to the settlement of the far Eastern question.

There is much discussion regarding the choice of plenipotentiaries and the place of meeting. The proposal to meet in the territory in dispute is favorably considered.

Opposed to an Armistice.

Tokio, June 14.—The Japanese government still maintains silence regarding peace negotiations. It is apparently awaiting action and advices from Washington and St. Petersburg. The newspapers continue to be flatly opposed to an early armistice, which would deprive the army of the advantages within its grasp.

RICH MINNESOTA MEN FINED.

Also Sentenced to Prison for Conspiracy to Defraud.

Seattle, Wash., June 14.—F. M. Barrett and F. W. Bole, wealthy business men of Wheaton, Minn., pleaded guilty in the federal court to complicity in a conspiracy to defraud the government by inducing Italians to take out timber claims near Kallispell, Mont., and were sentenced to one year in the United States penitentiary, fined $1,000, and ordered to pay the cost of action. Judge Hanford made caustic remarks on the moral turpitude which was involved and which was condoned in a letter introduced by Defendant Barrett from a cousin, who is judge of the supreme court of Maine. H. J. Shout and G. L. Brokaw of Spokane, who are also defendants, refused to plead. The case against Shout may be dismissed.

KILLED BY GAMBLER

PREMIER DELYANNIS OF GREECE
FATALLY STABBED BY AN ASSASSIN AT ATHENS.

LIVED BUT A SHORT TIME

MURDERER NARROWLY ESCAPES
LYNCHING AT HANDS OF INFURIATED POPULACE.

Athens, June 14.—Theodore P. Delyannis, the popular premier of Greece, was stabbed and mortally wounded by a professional gambler named Gherakaris at the entrance of the chamber of deputies at 5 p. m. The premier died within three hours. The assassin, who was immediately arrested, said he committed the deed in revenge for the stringent measures taken by Premier Delyannis against the gambling houses, all of which recently were closed.

The premier arrived at the entrance of the chamber in a carriage. Gherakaris approached, saluted the premier and opened the carriage door. The premier was in the act of thanking Gherakaris for his courtesy when the gambler plunged a long dagger into M. Delyannis' abdomen, inflicting a frightful wound.

The murderer was immediately overpowered by the attendants. Medical assistance was quickly secured and the wounded statesman was taken to a Red Cross station, where an operation was performed in an effort to stop the internal hemorrhage. This was unsuccessful and Premier Delyannis died at 7:30 o'clock.

The news quickly spread and it would be impossible to describe the popular evidences of sorrow or the anger of the crowd, who attempted to lynch the assassin. Lynching was prevented by the gendarmes, who rushed their prisoner from the building to prison.

About 20,000 persons saw the body of the premier taken from the Red Cross station to his late residence. Members of the cabinet and of the chamber of deputies were among the crowd, many of them weeping.

The cabinet met in the evening and it was decided that the body should lie in state in the chamber before interment.

King George, who is at Tatol, was informed of the assassination and announced that he would at once return to Athens.

Investigation by the police shows that Gherakaris was recently liberated from prison, having been sentenced to eighteen years for the murder of his wife.

ON A CHARGE OF BLACKMAIL.
Prominent New York Lawyer Placed Under Arrest.

New York, June 14.—A remarkable case of alleged dual identity came to light with the arrest and indictment by the grand jury of Thomas F. Wyckes, fifty-five years old, a prominent lawyer, on a charge of blackmail.

According to District Attorney Jerome, Wyckes had been living a Jekyll and Hyde life for more than three years. His relatives claim that he had shown evidence of being mentally unbalanced and that they had thought of sending him to a retreat, but that he informed them that he would resist any such attempt. When he was arraigned Wyckes was released on $1,000 bail, pleading on the indictment being deferred until next Monday on request of the district attorney.

The case is based upon a complaint made by Edmund Weston, head of the Weston Electrical Instrument company of Newark, N. J., who alleges that Wyckes under the fictitious name of "Lewis Jarvis" wrote him a number of letters criticising acts of an attorney employed by Mr. Weston in a case in which Wyckes also was interested and demanding money for protection against prosecution for alleged illegal acts.

SIGNS RAILROAD RATE BILL.

But Governor La Follette Does Not Fully Approve of Measure.

Madison, Wis., June 14.—Governor La Follette at night signed the railroad rate commission bill, submitting a memorandum in which he mentions regret that the bill does not contain a provision authorizing the commission to deny railroads and other public service corporations the right to issue stocks and bonds, without first showing to the satisfaction of the commission that the property of the corporation owned at the time of such issue, and that proposed to be acquired with the proceeds of the sale of such stocks or bonds, is equal in value to the stocks and bonds then outstanding, added to the stock and bonds which it is proposed to issue.

THREE PERSONS KILLED.

Twenty-nine Others Badly Hurt in Train Wreck.

Albion, Ill., June 14.—Three persons were killed and twenty-nine injured in the wreck of an eastbound passenger train on the Southern railway at Golden Gate, Ill. The train was a "Cotton Special," carrying Confederate veterans to the reunion at Louisville, Ky. While running at a speed of fifty miles an hour, the engine struck a spread rail on a trestle twenty feet high and the engine and four coaches were overturned and fell to the bottom of the ravine. The engine turned completely over.

The dead are J. J. Uhles, Greenway, Ark.; Fireman J. D. Johnson and Engineer Otto Graetz, both of Princeton, Ind.

Among the injured are: W. C. Peeler, district passenger agent of the Cotton Belt road, Memphis, chest injured; will recover.

Captain John S. Bell, Pine Bluff, Ark., arm fractured and internally injured.

General James Jordan, Pine Bluff, Ark., seriously injured in chest and on arms.

General Jordan, who was seriously injured about the chest and arms, was in charge of the Second Arkansas brigade. W. C. Peeler did not regard his injuries as serious and started for home. The train consisted of three Pullmans and four coaches. Two of the sleepers were derailed but did not go over the trestle. The third sleeper remained on the track.

BATTLESHIP TEXAS SUNK.

Theoretically Put Out of Action for the Third Time.

Fort Monroe, Va., June 14.—For the third time in the past twenty-four hours the battleship Texas, flagship; the training ship Hartford and the gunboat Hornet, were constructively sunk off Fort Monroe about 10 o'clock p. m. The third attack on the Chesapeake fortifications began at 9:35 p. m. and heavy firing was maintained by both fleet and forts for almost half an hour. So far as can be learned now only one mine was exploded during the last encounter and that may have been struck by a merchant ship. The attacking ships were defeated all along the line.

RESULT OF A QUARREL.

Kansas Stockman Wounds His Wife and Kills Himself.

Troy, Kan., June 14.—William Mitchell, a wealthy stockman of this city, was found dead with a bullet hole through his head and his wife shot through the shoulder at their home here. "Mrs. Mitchell says that her husband shot her and then shot and killed himself as the result of a quarrel over another woman."

Forecast—Fair.
Temperature (Record kept by Dr. J. L. Camp for 45 hours ending at 3 o'clock this afternoon)—Maximum 82 above zero; minimum 60 above zero.

A BEMIDJI lady has fallen heir to a fortune of $120,000. Unlike most instances of this kind Mrs. Wozner actually gets the money and has gone east to enjoy it.

A WATABIAN has just been given a verdict against the Northern Pacific for $100 for a hunting dog lost in transit between Brainerd and Little Falls. The court evidently holds that the dog is baggage.

The city papers are experiencing considerable difficulty in keeping up the necessary amount of enthusiasm and interest in their political predictions. It has got to be a pretty good political story that will keep 24 hours this kind of weather.

A. L. HAMILTON, of the Aitkin Republican, has been on the slate as the next receiver of the Duluth land office and his friends are endeavoring to prevent a change in the program. It is understood that Congressman Bede will make good his promise.

The man who has no enemies is one who has never taken a decided stand on any proposition in the community where he lives. The successful politician or business man is one who has followed out his own ideas regarding public matters in opposition to those of many of his neighbors and fellow townsmen, and the man who said "failure always hates success, and the man who has no enemies should be ashamed of himself" came near hitting the nail on the head.

A UNIQUE RECORD.

Not Another Like It In Our Broad Republic.

To give positive home testimony in every locality is of itself unanswerable proof of merit; but when we add to this the continued endorsement from people who testified years ago no evidence can be stronger. A Brainerd citizen gratefully acknowledges the good received from Doan's Kidney Pills, and when time has tested the cure we find the same hearty endorsement, with added enthusiasm and continued praise. Cases of this kind are plentiful in the work of Doan's Kidney Pills, and such a record is unique in the annals of medicine.

R. D. Ranson, engineer, of 201 11th St., N. Brainerd, Minn., says: "What I said in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills in our local papers some six years ago was not only true, but I can state today that after further experience with this remedy, it is the best preparation of the kind that I ever tried. Before I got my first box at H. P. Dunn & Co.'s drug store I had suffered for a good many years with kidney troubles. I had a great deal of pain in the back and loins and there was annoying irregularity in the action of the kidneys. Night brought me only restless sleep as I could not lie in one position without getting sore and lame. When stooping or lifting I suffered intense pain if I tried to straighten suddenly. Doan's Kidney Pills entirely cured me at that time, and when I suffered a similar attack some years later, I again used Doan's Kidney Pills with the same satisfactory results."

The wrestling match last night did not materialize on account of the rain and the one tonight is also off. The Human Derrick was to have done things tonight. The report of the convention yesterday precluded mention of the wrestling match between Shores and Mattsson the night before. Shores got the three falls and showed himself to be far superior to Mattsson in almost every way.

ED BILLODEAU BADLY BURNED

While Trying to Remove a Piano from his Burning Home Last Evening.

HANDS AND FACE ARE INJURED

Loss Estimated at $1200 on the House and Contents, $600 Insurance.

Ed Billodeau, residing at 812 Walker st., in the mill district, lost his home by fire about 6:30 last night and was badly burned into the bargain.

The house caught fire from a defective flue and though the mill boys got a line of hose on promptly the fire could not be subdued until the building was a total wreck and the contents ruined.

The city department was called out and made a pretty run, but it was all over when they got there.

Mr. Billodeau made a desperate effort to rescue a piano and was very severely burned about the head neck and hands. Dr. Thabes was called and dressed the wounds. The injured man is resting easily today and unless complications set in will undoubtedly recover rapidly.

The entire loss is estimated at $1200 with $250 insurance on the house and $350 on the contents in the Consolidated Fire and Marine, represented by A. P. Riggs.

Miss Anna Veigel Married.

An Everett, Wash., paper contains the following account of the wedding of a former Brainerd young lady which will be read with interest by her many friends in this city:

"A pretty home wedding was quietly celebrated at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Veigel, 2712 Pine street, at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Miss Anna Veigel and Raymond Brown were united in marriage. Rev. Herbert Thomson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, read the marriage service in the presence of relatives and a few most intimate friends. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Bertha Veigel and Mr. Otto Runte was groomsmen. The house was tastefully decorated with roses, carnations, potted plants, ferns and palms. At 6 o'clock a 3-course dinner was served in the dining room. The table decorations were pink carnations and delicate green ferns. The bride and groom left on the evening train for a short trip to Tacoma and Portland. On their return they will take apartments at the Virginia hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Brown were the recipients of many handsome wedding gifts. Mr. Brown is one of Everett's promising young business men, being at the present time manager of the Everett Shoe store. Both he and his bride are well known among the young people of Everett.

1468 Second Street, LOUISVILLE, KY., April 14, 1903.

I have been weak and sickly for the past four years, caused by irregularity and carelessness regarding the laws of health, but about five months ago my condition became very serious. I had severe backache and suffered a constant dull pain in my head. I spent weary, painful days, and miserable, restless nights. The doctor told me that I must have patience.

His medicine did not, however, give me even temporary relief and as I had been told of the curative qualities of Wine of Cardui I decided to try it.

I found that it relieved me of pain. As my general health improved my other troubles were gradually diminished and after five weeks' use of the Wine of Cardui I was once more a well and happy woman.

LITTLE NAPOLEON OF THE LABOR MOVEMENT
Thus was Samuel Gompers Eulogized in a Speech by E. W. McEwen Yesterday Afternoon
SOME STRONG RESOLUTIONS
Convention Wrestling with the Question of the Election of President This Afternoon

Yesterday afternoon's session of the State Federation convention proved to be a most interesting one. The business was practically in the nature of passing upon numerous resolutions, some of which were of a very interesting character. Chief among these was that which eulogized Samuel Gompers as the Napoleon of union labor, and the American Federation as the safeguard of the American labor movement, and was as follows:

"The Minnesota State Federation of Labor, in annual convention assembled, sends greeting to the toilers of the state and bids them continue to labor and endure till the day when their true relation toward the industries of the people shall be fully recognized and understood. It reminds them that through the influence of the American Federation of Labor and its subordinate organizations our people have learned the great secret of effective organization and self help, so that today 2,000,000 American working men and women are united through the unions of their respective crafts seeking the advancement of their own rights and interests as members of the commonwealth, and thereby the moral and material betterment of American society.

"Resolved, That we hereby reaffirm our faith in the superior effectiveness of trade union organization, and we warn our fellow workers everywhere against the dangerous fallacy involved in the dangerous system known as industrial organization. Experience has taught us that the only system of united action among the masses of the working people, which at once promotes solidarity in the ranks of labor and secures the continued interest of the individual in collective effort, is that which induces united action through membership in craft organization.

"Resolved, That we enter our solemn protest against the so-called labor organization now contemplated to be formed in Chicago on the ruins of the Western Labor Union, to be designated as the American Industrial Union. The inevitable tendency of such a movement, if not the actual purpose designed by its promoters, is to divide and disrupt labor organizations in America.

"Resolved, That while the permanency and success of our movement must ever depend on the loyalty and devotion of its component members, this convention is unwilling to adjourn without giving expression to the high esteem and gratitude with which its members, and those whom they represent, regard the present executive head of the American Federation of Labor, Samuel Gompers, of all the able and devoted men who have championed the cause of union labor in the greatest measure has borne the heat and burden of the day. Through his unceasing zeal and devotion backed by the splendid intellectual resources which he has brought to the services of our cause, he has, in the judgment of this convention, done more than any other individual whatever, to earn for it the great measure of public acceptance and success which has been achieved with his leadership.

M. Mogan of Minneapolis wanted the names of other labor leaders inserted, who he said were deserving of as much praise as President Gompers. He then went into an extended tirade against the American Federation of Labor, and held that as the American Federation of Labor used certain methods to dethrone the Knights of Labor, so the contemplated industrial union of America would dethrone the A. F. of L.

These remarks were not taken kindly by the trades unionists in the convention, and Secretary McEwen who had waited for some delegate to answer, stepped to the platform and made an impassioned speech in defense of the American Federation of Labor. "I am surprised," he said, "that the remarks of the delegate should go unchallenged in a convention of trades unionists. Mr. Mogan has stated a positive untruth. He has said that the Federation was not progressive, when it is known that an industrial organization policy is being adopted as fast as the law of progress will permit. In many international organizations this policy is being agreed to. When any delegate in this convention casts any reflection upon Samuel Gompers he is casting it upon the greatest living labor leader, whose brains and intellectual resources have made the movement what it is today, and who refuses to nibble at the bait of the ghost dancers who wish to destroy the labor movement, and build upon its ruins a monument to their impracticable dreams and fancies. I hold that Samuel Gompers, that little Napoleon of the labor movement, is deserving of the support of this convention during this trying hour, when the enemies within its ranks are endeavoring to destroy the result of twenty-five years of effort."

That the convention was in entire accord with the remarks of Secretary McEwen was evident from the hearty applause he received and from the large vote cast for the endorsement of the resolutions.

The federation decided to ask the A. F. of L. to provide an organizer to work in Minnesota in the interests of the state organization, he to be paid in part by each organization and to work under the direction of the state federation officials. The incoming officers will take the matter up with the A. F. of L. officials and arrangements will likely be made to start a campaign in the interests of organized labor immediately. The federation is anxious to make a record the coming year, and it is said an organizer will be placed in the field whether an arrangement is made with the A. F. of L. or not.

A request from President Gompers that factory inspectors be placed in uniform resulted in a resolution being passed asking the state labor bureau officials to take steps to secure compliance with the idea.

Convict labor and prison made goods came in for some attention at the hands of the convention, and it was determined, if possible to in some manner have all prison-made products marked so as to distinguish them from that of free labor.

Increasing influx of pauper immigrants from foreign countries was taken up, and in a speech in which he introduced statistics to bear out his assertions, A. C. Bainbridge presented some things on the immigration question which were interesting. He held that steps should be taken at once to stop unrestricted immigration of cheap Japanese and Korean labor. The western country, he said, was suffering because of the importation of foreigners who threatened to drive the common laborer of the west out of business entirely. Thomas Van Lear, in commenting upon the remarks of Mr. Bainbridge, called attention to the conditions in the factory districts of the south, where, he said, things were equally bad.

A resolution called attention to the questionable tactics being employed by the representatives of the American Labor Union in their anxiety to gain a foothold in American Federation of Labor territory. Further on the delegates were warned to beware of so-called industrial organizations, which were characterized as enemies of labor unions.

The International Typographical Union was assured of support from the federation in the following resolution endorsing the eight-hour day, which will be inaugurated on Jan. 1, 1906.

"Whereas, The International Typographical Union in convention assembled in the city of St. Louis in August, 1904, requested from the National Typothetae in convention assembled in the same city, a conference looking to the securing of an eight hour day for the book and job printers, and,

Whereas, The Typographical convention, after the Typothetae convention refused to consider in any way the proposition, adopted a resolution to submit to the referendum whether or not on Jan. 1, 1906, a demand would be made for an eight hour day, and,

"Whereas, The referendum vote resulted in an overwhelming majority for the eight hour day, and as a result on Jan. 1, 1906, the eight hour day will be demanded in every book and job office under the direction of the I. T. U., and,

"Whereas, The American Federation in convention assembled unanimously endorsed the action of the Typographical Union in their demands and pledged an assessment on the membership to assist the printers in case of trouble, therefore be it

"Resolved, That we the delegates to the annual convention of the State Federation of Labor do hereby endorse the action of the Typographical Union in their just demands for the eight hour day, and pledge to them our support. Be it further,

"Resolved, That we endorse the action of the American Federation of Labor in levying an assessment to assist the I. T. U., and pledge to the Typographical Union in the State of Minnesota our financial support and assure them that should such support be desired it will be responded to liberally and promptly.

"Resolved, That the delegates to this convention be hereby instructed to urge upon their respective unions to do all in their power to increase the demand for the label of the Allied Printing Trades Councils."

Mr. John J. Stonestey presented the case of the Chicago striking garment workers in an address before the convention. He went over the trouble from the beginning, and at the close of the address a collection was taken up which netted $93.00. Mr. Stonestey will remain in Minnesota for some time and visit labor unions in the interests of the strikers.

The following telegram was sent to Samuel Gompers by Secretary W. E. McEwen: "Our State Federation, in convention assembled, supported a resolution reaffirming its indorsement of the position of the Flour Mill Employees in the Washburn-Crosby matter.

TODAY'S SESSION.

There was a warm session this morning when the convention opened. President Dix announced that the election of officers could not be taken up at this time as he believed the report of the committee on constitution preceded this order of business.

The resolution which created the excitement was the one amending Sec. 1, Art. 5. It provides that the Federation council shall conduct most of its business by correspondence and shall not meet oftener than once in three months, unless directed by order of the president, who is empowered to call a meeting of the council whenever the business of the Federation warrants. The council shall consist of a president and vice president from each congressional district in the state where there are unions represented on the roster.

This point of having a representative in each congressional district was the one which brought forth the storm of opposition from twin city members, and there was a hot time, charges of "gag" rule etc., being flung out.

Instead of taking up the election of officers all the time this morning was taken up in discussion.

When the proposition to amend had been discussed pro and con all the morning a motion was made that the convention proceed to vote. It required a two-thirds vote to carry the amendment, and when the votes were counted those favoring the proposition lacked just eight votes.

THIS AFTERNOON.

This afternoon the business of electing officers was taken up again and balloting on the office of president was continued.

W. E. McEwen, of Duluth, was re-elected this afternoon secretary-treasurer of the federation by acclamation. Mr. McEwen is one of the most prominent men in labor circles in the state, is extremely popular and has made a great record during his term of office.

The following were nominated as members of the federation council from Minneapolis: S. J. Spencer, G. W. Deacon, A. W. Turner and W. I. Green. Five ballots were taken for president without result. After the fifth ballot the St. Paul delegates withdrew T. F. Thomas' name and substituted the name of William Templeman and at the time of going to press the ballot on the new combination had not been counted.
